He paused a moment. His mother put her hand upon his shoulder, with a word of gentle sympathy. Then he went on:

"Well, six years after I had gone away, one evening in midsummer we came into the harbor of Quebec. I had been long in the southern seas. When I went ashore on a day's leave and wandered off in the fields and got the smell of the north I went out of my head—went crazy for a look at the hills of Faraway and my own people. Nothing could stop me then. I drew my pay, packed my things in a bag, and off I went. Left the burg after the day after; got to Faraway in the evening. It was beautiful—the scent of the new hay that stood in cocks and winnows on the hill, the noise of the crickets, the smell of the grain, the old house, just as I remembered them, just as I had dreamed of them a thousand times. And when I went by the gate Bony, my old dog, came out and barked at me, and I spoke to him, and he knew me and came and licked my hands, rubbing upon my leg. I sat down with him there by the stone wall, and the kiss of that old dog, the first token of love I had known for years, called back the dead and all that had been his. I put my arms about his neck and was near crying out with joy. Then I stole up to the house and looked in at a window. There sat fa-

BLOOD CELLS.

Man is a millionaire many times over in the possession of blood cells. Woman is not quite so rich, for scientists have proven that the normal number of red blood cells in adult men is five million; in women four and a half million. To the square millimeter of the normal cell is not absolutely round in health, but, in disease, becomes extremely irregular in shape. Every one can be in perfect health and possess the millions of rich red blood corpuscles if they only know how to go about it. Dr. R. V. Pierce, consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., advises every man and woman to prepare for a long life by observing nature's laws. In the first place, if your digestion is faulty, and the food you eat is not taken up by the blood and assimilated properly, you need a tonic and a digestive corrector, something that will increase the red blood corpuscles; he believes in going about this in nature's own way. Years ago, in his active practice, he found that an extract of certain herbs and roots, put up without the use of alcohol, would put the liver, lungs and heart into fuller and more complete action. This medicine he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By assimilating the food eaten, it nourishes the blood, and, instead of the ill-shaped corpuscles, the person's blood takes on a rich red color and the corpuscles are more nearly round. Nervousness is only the cry of the starved nerves for food, and when the nerves are fed on rich red blood the person loses those irritable feelings, sleeps well at night and feels refreshed in the morning.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER.

If you want to know about your body, read Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which can be had for the cost of mailing, 31 cents in one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound book, or 21 stamps for the paper-covered volume, 108 pages. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

GOING TO BUILD? If so, read Dr. R. V. Pierce's "The Architect's Handbook," 125 pages of photographs and plans of modern, priced homes. Tells how to build them. Postpaid 10 cents. Plans and specifications carefully prepared for church, school, stores, etc.

CHAPTER XXX.

SINCE that day I have seen much coming and going.

We are now the old folks—Margaret and Nehemiah and Hope and I. Those others, with their rugged strength, their simple ways, their undying youth, are of the past. The young folks—they are a new kind of people. It gives us comfort to think they will never have to sing in choirs or "pound the rock" for board money. But I know it is the worse luck for them. They are a fine lot of young men and women—comely and well-mannered—but they will not be the pathfinders of the future. What with balls and dinners and clubs and theaters they find too great a solace in the rear rank.

Nearly twenty years after that memorable Christmas, coming from Buffalo to New York one summer morning, my thoughts went astray in the north country. The familiar faces, the old scenes, came trooping by, and that very day I saw the sun set in Hillsborough as I had often those late years.

Mother was living in the old home alone with a daughter of Grandma Bissette. It was her wish to live and die under that roof. She cooked me a fine supper with her own hands and a great anxiety to please me.

"Come, Willie," said she, as if I were a small boy again, "you'll all the wood box, an' I'll get supper ready. Lucindy, you clear out," she said to the hired girl good naturedly. "You dunno how t' cook for him."

I filled the wood box and brought a pail of water and while she was frying the ham and eggs read to her a part of a speech I had made in congress. Before thousands I had never felt more elation. At last I was sure of winning her applause. The little bent figure stood thoughtfully turning the ham and eggs. She put the spider aside to stand near me, her hands upon her hips. There was a mighty pride in her face when I had finished. I rose, and she went and looked out of the window.

"Grand!" she murmured, wiping her eyes with the corner of her handkerchief.

"Glad you like it," I said, with great satisfaction.

"Oh, the speech!" she answered, her elbow resting on the window sash, her hand supporting her head. "I liked it very well, but—but I was thinking of the sunset. How beautiful it is!"

I was weary after my day of travel and went early to bed there in my old room. I left her finishing a pair of socks she had been knitting for me. Lying in bed I could hear the creak of her chair and the low sung, familiar words:

"On the other side of Jordan,
In the sweet fields of Eden,
Where the tree of life is blooming
There is rest for you."

Late at night she came into my room with a candle. I heard her come softly to the bed, where she stood a moment leaning over me. Then she drew the quilt about my shoulder with a gentle hand.

"Poor little orphan!" said she in a whisper that trembled. She was thinking of my childhood, of her own happier days.

Then she went away, and I heard in the silence a ripple of measureless waters.

Next morning I took flowers and strewed them on the graves of David and Uncle Eb. There Hope and I go often to sit for half a summer day above those perished forms and think of the old time and of those last words of my venerable friend now graven on his tombstone:

I ain't afraid,
Shamed of nuthin' I ever done,
Allwus kep' my tugs tight,
Never swore 'less 'twas necessary,
Never ketch'd a fish bigger 'n 'twas Er lied 'n a horse trader,
Er shed a tear I didn't hev to,
Never cheated anybody but Eben Holden.
Goin' off somewhere, Bill—dunno the way 'nuther,
Dunno if it's east er west er north er south,
Er read er trail;
But I ain't afraid.

THE END.

A Poser.

"There, my son; that will do for this time," sternly interrupted the long suffering parent. "I don't know who was the first man to invent wrestling nor how many mickles make a muckle nor how many is many nor how few is few nor how a sailor smokes his horn-pipe nor why Good Friday never comes on a Tuesday nor why rabbits can't add, subtract and divide as well as multiply, nor why an owl should hoot and not howl nor the answer to any one of the many other foolish questions that your abnormally developed bump of inquisitiveness incites you to propound."

"Yes, but, father, I don't want to ask any silly questions. This is a most important one. Please, do you think when a stout man is self contained he has more room inside of himself to contain himself in than a thin man has or is himself so big that he is just as tightly crowded inside of himself as the thin man is and how much of himself is it that is self contained and how much is on the outside doing the containing, and—"

"Clarence, go to bed this instant!"

False Alarm.

He—Clara, I want to ask you a question. She—This is so sudden! He—I know, but I can't stand it any longer. The fact is one of the legs of your chair is on my foot, and I was going to ask you if you would kindly remove it.

Worked at It.

Mrs. Goodthing—Here's some pie, but you got a dinner from me yesterday. Why don't you learn some trade? Trump—I have learned one, ma'am. I'm a retoucher.

STATUS OF STRIKE

Both Sides to the Chicago Trouble Are Claiming Gains.

A DECIDED ADVANTAGE

Is Claimed by the Employers Who Have Been Able to Successfully Work Many Wagons.

The Teamsters, on the Other Hand, Declare the Tide of Victory is With Them.

Chicago, May 9.—Both employers and strikers claim gains in the teamsters' strike. The employers declare that they have gained a decided advantage in the number of wagons sent out and the amount of business transacted. The strikers' claim is based on the fact that 250 drivers for the various furniture dealers in the city struck this morning and also 150 paint workers, employed by the Heath & Milligan company. The strike of the furniture dealers' drivers was foreshadowed when at a convention of the Furniture Dealers' association it was declared that their men must make deliveries irrespective of strike conditions. They ordered their men to carry goods to the boycotted houses and the strike today is the result. The paint workers of Heath & Milligan are the first members of any union not a member of the teamsters' organization to go on strike in support of the teamsters. They have walked out because of the delivery of goods by non-union teamsters.

The State street department stores and large drygoods houses are sending out nearly their complement of delivery wagons and transacting business on almost a normal basis. On the wagon of Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co. ample preparations are made for possible trouble. All of their wagons are guarded by at least two representatives of the law, either police officers in buglies or deputy sheriffs, the latter being in all cases armed with rifles. The deputies sit in the rear of the wagons and hold their guns in position to use at the first sign of disturbance. Other houses adopt the same course.

The rioting yesterday was of a sharper character than that of Saturday. Three men were fatally injured and a number of others badly hurt, although the number of the wounded is not nearly so large as on some of the days the middle of last week. The fatally hurt: John Fruen, stabbed by a colored man who resented the epithet of strike breaker; Richard Fruen, brother of John, stabbed by same colored man; Albert Enders, shot in the abdomen and left hip by Wm. O'Day, a colored teamster whom he had attacked. The majority of the affrays occurred during the afternoon. Enders was shot last night by William O'Day, a colored teamster employed by the Hansell Alecock company. O'Day was south in the alley west of Stewart avenue, between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth streets, when he was attacked by Enders, who struck him with a heavy stone. O'Day drew a revolver and fired twice, both bullets taking effect in Enders' body. O'Day was arrested. The Hansell Alecock company, his employers, are not involved in the teamsters' strike and there was no occasion for Enders' attack.

The civic commission appointed by Mayor Dunne to investigate the strike has commenced operations. It did little but organize for future work, however, and the promise for the successful performance of its mission does not seem to be bright. It has no power to summon witnesses and must therefore rely upon volunteered testimony. Today the members of the employers' association declared that they had received no official notice of the creation of the commission and would have no dealings with it until they had been properly notified of its existence. President Dold of the Chicago Federation of Labor declared for the labor men that none of them would appear before the commission and give any evidence whatever until its sessions were open to the public and it investigated not only the cases of the present teamsters' strike, but those leading up to the strike of the garment workers of Montgomery Ward & Co., last January. It was in support of this strike four months after its inception that the teamsters went out in sympathy.

COLORADO'S WELCOME

President's Last Day in Mountain State Made Memorable.

Denver, May 9.—The entertainment of President Roosevelt by the citizens of Denver last night was a fitting conclusion of a day of royal welcome as he journeyed through the state of Colorado from Glenwood Springs. All the towns along the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, over which the presidential party traveled, centered their population at the stations to greet the president, and every evidence of hearty good will was seen and heard. The crowning event came last night in the form of a banquet tendered President Roosevelt by the Denver chamber of commerce at the Brown Palace hotel. This was perhaps the most sumptuous affair ever held in the state, and the president was visibly pleased. The banquet began at 8 o'clock and continued until 11, when the president was escorted to his private car, "Rocket," where he almost immediately retired to await his departure for Chicago at 7 o'clock this morning.

FAR-REACHING DECISION

Bucket Shops Have Probably Received a Death Blow.

Washington, May 9.—The supreme court of the United States has decided the case of the board of trade of Chicago against the C. C. Christie Commission company of Kansas City, and the Kinsie company of Chicago, involving the question as to the right of the private concerns to use the continuous quotations of the board in favor of the contentions of the board of trade. It is declared that the above decision means the closing of all bucket shops, as it is understood that the New York stock exchange will follow the course of the Chicago board of trade in asking for injunctions against the use of its quotations by others than members of the exchange.

Fierce Forest Fires.

Plymouth, Mass., May 9.—One thousand men are struggling with the forest fire which, starting near here four days ago, has extended into four towns and, shifted with the winds, threatened first one settlement and then another. Today the front of the fire extends two miles, while its side lines reach back six miles. It has laid waste seventy-five square miles and is by no means under control. Nothing but a heavy rain will, the fire-fighters say, permanently stay the progress of the flames.

Recalcitrant Witness Fined.

New York, May 9.—Judge Lacombe in the United States circuit court has announced that he will sign an order fining Edwin F. Hale, secretary of the McAndrews & Forbes company, $5 for having refused to answer certain questions asked him in the investigation being made by the federal grand jury into the American Tobacco company, and also an order committing Hale to the custody of the United States marshal until he purges himself of the contempt.

A Crisis in Crete.

Rome, May 9.—Reports from the island of Crete represent the situation there as extremely grave. Prince George, representing the powers, is unable to control events, and it is feared that the insurgents will attack the international troops.

Serious Riot Near Tiflis.

Tiflis, May 9.—Police who are attempting to arrest two men who had tried to murder a nobleman in a village near here were attacked by a mob of would-be rescuers. In the conflict which ensued twenty of the mob were killed or wounded.

St. Petersburg, May 9.—Sensational rumors are current here that there has been a three-days' massacre of Jews at Zhitomir, capital of the province of Volhynia, in southwestern Russia. The rumor has not been confirmed.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

It is rumored in Paris that the Japanese flagship Nikasa was lost in the straits of Korea a week ago.

The Japanese government has taken over the Korean bureau of communications, posts and telegrams.

The annual convention of the sovereign camp of the Woodmen of the World is in session at Chattanooga, Tenn.

For the murder of Detective Schumaker in January, 1903, "Bill" Rudolph was yesterday hanged at Union, Mo.

At Traverse City, Mich., Brandon Gardner, aged sixty-five, shot and killed his wife, aged sixty, and then blew out his own brains.

In the supreme court of the United States the argument in the boundary dispute case between the states of Louisiana and Mississippi has been set for Oct. 10 next.

Professors Von Glanville and Petrich of Graz university, and an official named Stapper were killed by an avalanche while they were climbing the Alps.

In diplomatic circles a lively anxiety is expressed as to the outcome of the delicate situation involved in the dispute between Japan and France on the neutrality question.

The Warsaw police have conducted a vigorous campaign to put a stop to bomb-throwing and shooting, capturing numbers of bombs and revolvers in houses occupied by various agitators.

James R. Garfield, commissioner of the bureau of corporations of the department of commerce and labor, is now at Beaumont, Tex., to investigate conditions in the oil field there.

JOINED FORCES

Russian Squadrons Have Effected a Junction in the China Sea

WILL LOSE NO TIME

It is Believed That the Combined Squadrons Will Now Steam Out to Meet the Japanese.

Word of a Naval Battle, in the Nature of Things, Can Not Be Delayed Much Longer.

St. Petersburg, May 9.—Official advices have reached St. Petersburg which are believed to indicate that the division under Vice Admiral Nebogoff has effected a junction with the more powerful squadron commanded by Vice Admiral Rojestevsky, and at the Russian capital it is expected that the combined squadrons will lose no time in steaming northward to encounter the Japanese. Confirmation of St. Petersburg's expectation is afforded by an official dispatch to the French naval office announcing that the Russian squadron has left Kongsai bay, its destination being unknown.

Looks Like Business.

Tokio, May 9.—Vice Admiral Togo's fleet is concentrating in the Korean channel and a portion of the Japanese navy is watching Vladivostok.

WAR ZONE EXTENDED

Linevitch Given Greater Latitude Toward Mongolia.

St. Petersburg, May 9.—Japan has refused to agree to a definition of the limits of the war zone in Mongolia west of the present positions of the armies. Until after the Russian defeat at Mukden, and while the operations were confined to Manchuria the neutral zone was well established, although claims of violation were preferred by both belligerents. North of Tie Pass Mongolia juts east and across the railroad and the limit of the zone of hostilities has never been fixed. In view of the fact that the Japanese used Shinnia to effect their turning movement against Mukden, General Linevitch called upon the authorities at St. Petersburg to secure a definition of the line northward and Russia made proposals that the government at Peking delimit the zone, but the answers from China were evasive, Japan declining to bind herself. For the present therefore General Linevitch is free to take such measures as he deems proper to protect himself from a hostile movement in the direction of Mongolia.

Junction Accomplished.

St. Petersburg, May 9.—According to dispatches to the admiralty brought to Saigon by the hospital ship Kostroma, the junction of Vice Admirals Rojestevsky and Nebogoff is by this time an accomplished fact. The admiralty professes ignorance of the present location of the united squadrons, but in view of the long and uninterrupted voyage of Nebogoff's division, it is believed his ships will spend some time in sheltered waters of the China sea near the coast, but outside the three-mile limit, in order to complete final recoaling and other preparations before setting out on the last and crucial stage of the voyage.

THE SCOURGE OF GOD

Emperor William Draws a Lesson from Eastern War.

Berlin, May 9.—The Evangelische Kirchen Zeitung prints a detailed report of Emperor William's remarks when swearing in the naval recruits at Wilhelmshaven recently, in which, according to the very brief report published at the time, he cited the Japanese as a luminous example of patriotism and soldierly fidelity. The Kirchen Zeitung's resume of the speech is as follows:

"The emperor referred to the heroic deeds of the Japanese and added that these are born of Japanese patriotism and love for children which in turn resulted in splendid discipline in army and navy. One must not, however, draw the conclusion from Japanese victories—victories of a heathen over a Christian people—that Buddha is superior to our Lord Christ. The Russians' defeat, in his opinion, was due to the fact that Russian Christianity was in a deplorable condition. The Japanese on the other hand could show many Christian virtues. A good Christian makes a good soldier. Among the German people, too, Christianity is in a sad condition; and he doubted whether we Germans, in case of war, would have the right to pray God for victory, to force it from Him like Jacob wrestling with the angel. The Japanese are the scourge of God, like Attila and Napoleon. It involves upon us to take care that God does not chastise us some day with such a scourge."

Trade Retaliation in Earnest.

Churbusco, Ind., May 9.—The merchants of this city have entered into a compact not to buy produce from farmers who get their merchandise through the mail order houses in Chicago. This decision is causing much comment, as this has been one of the leading produce markets of northeastern Indiana.

Must Remedy Legal Defect.

Springfield, Ill., May 9.—Officers from Pekin asked Governor Deneen to sign requisition papers for two men, names not made public, said to be connected with the Standard Oil company, who are under indictment at Pekin on a charge of trying to force a competitive oil company out of business in Pekin. Governor Deneen refused to issue a requisition because the indictment was faulty. The indictment was returned to Pekin in order to remedy the defect.

Fears of Policy Holders Allayed.

Albany, N. Y., May 9.—Superintendent of Insurance Hendricks makes public a statement to the policy holders of the Equitable Life Assurance Society in connection with the examination of that society, now in progress by his department, in which he says that he is "sufficiently well informed as to its condition to unhesitatingly state that it is financially sound and that all its contracts to policy holders are fully and safely guaranteed."

The Lawyers Blundered.

London, Ky., May 9.—It developed during the argument that some of the material parts of the transcript in the Caleb Powers case were not included in those filed and the court ordered that the case be docketed, the partial transcript filed and the case passed until the remainder of the records can be procured and filed.

It Was a Tame Bout.

Philadelphia, May 9.—Marrin Hart and John Will went six rounds to a draw last night in a rather tame bout before the Washington Sporting club.

LET OUT.

Night Agent at North Vernon Discharged.

A dispatch from North Vernon says that Geo. D. Robbins, the night man at the B. & O. S-W. station at North Vernon was called to Cincinnati Monday and discharged.

There was a reported robbery of the North Vernon office, April 27, and it is said that detectives were put on the case and information gathered by them promised to cause a sensation. Robbins it is related sought the aid of relatives and secured money to make good the deficit, preferring to do that rather than make known all he knew about it. It is said that only $130 of the company's money was taken though over $1000 were in the drawer broken open.

Hudson charges that he is the victim of a conspiracy and if this charge is true there will likely be some sensational developments later on.

CARMI ILL.

Geo. Cross and Homer Ruby have opened up a new furniture store under the firm name of Cross & Ruby. Mr. Cross is an experienced funeral director and the only licensed embalmer in this city.

Ex-Saltrecker.

Lew Wallace's Unwritten Novel.

General Lew Wallace had in mind an American novel. He once said that it was his intention to write this story after he had completed his memoirs. His theme was the striving of Americans to accomplish wonderful things in an incredibly short time. His hero was to be a restless American who lived for a few years in Europe, then in Australia, in Africa and in South America and who finally, after years of wandering, returns to his own country only to start again upon his journey, never satisfied, never happy, the spirit of an Indian within him and the childlike desire to see new scenes. In each of these countries his hero was to accomplish worthy deeds, and when he returns to his own country it is with the intention of leading the life of a son of the soil, but his hero finds he cannot do so. The story would have been suggestive of "The Wanderer Jew," with the element of religious controversy eliminated.—Success.

A Stickler For Promptness.

A certain merchant in Boston is noted for being a stickler in the matter of promptness to the extent that he has been known to walk out of church because the services did not begin promptly and to leave his sister alone in a strange city because she was four minutes late in keeping an appointment. Not long ago he overheard a forceful exposition of his peculiarity.

He had walked out to his stable and was about to go in when he heard the new groom within say to the coachman, "Is it true, Dolan, that the boss is cracked about doing things on time and goes into a fit when anybody is late?"

"Thru? Thru?" cried Dolan. "Let me tell you, Ryan, how thru it is. If the boss had promised to mate himself at eleven o'clock and was late he'd find himself gone while he got there. That's how thru it is!"

Leprosy.

Smallpox, or variola, was not known to the Romans before the sixth century. Leprosy is as different from it as palsy is from St. Vitus' dance. What is this awful disease? Something endemic, chronic, malignant, with cutaneous lesion. It is a scabious affliction of a dreadful character, attacking nations negligent of cleanliness and the decencies of life. All that France and England gained by engaging in the crusades was leprosy, and of all that they took leprosy was the only thing that remained with them. In olden times every man laboring under the disease was imprisoned like a thief or a robber. Moth holes and the mildew on walls were believed to be the effects of leprosy.—New York Press.

The Baldheaded Eagle.

The staid, dignified and homely bald-headed eagle, the glorious emblem of the American republic, mates but once and lives with his one mate until he or she dies. If left a widower—even a young widower—the baldheaded eagle never mates again. He remains alone and disconsolate in the nest on the rocky crag or in the branches of a tall pine that formed his domicile while his mate was alive. No other female eagle can tempt him to forsake his disconsolate life.

A Human Rattler.

The baby had swallowed two buttons a dime and three marbles. For a moment his optimistic father seemed a trifle disheartened. But presently he regained his equanimity.

"It saves me the expense of buying a rattle for him," he chuckled as he dandled the infant on his knee.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Quite a shock passed over this community last week when George Lockman dropped dead with heart trouble. His funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mitchell in the Baptist church, after which the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery back of town. Uncle George lived a faithful and energetic life, always going by the "golden rule." He leaves two children, Lute and Nettie Stillwell, and a wife along with a host of friends and relatives to mourn his departure. They have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad hour of bereavement.

Garfield Sprague, of Indianapolis, visited Mrs. Buttorf last Friday.

Mrs. Bart Dadds is slowly improving.

A Good Suggestion.

Mr. C. B. Wainwright of Lemon City, Fla., has written the manufacturers that much better results are obtained from the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in case of pains in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus by taking it in water as hot as can be drunk. That when taken in this way the effect is double in rapidity. "It seems to get at the right spot instantly," he says. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

How to Ward Off Old Age.

The most successful way of warding off the approach of old age is to maintain a vigorous digestion. This can be done by eating only food suited to your age and occupation, and when any disorder of the stomach appears take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to correct it. If you have a weak stomach or are troubled with indigestion, you will find these Tablets to be just what you need. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

The Secret of Woman's Unrest—Furnishing the Guest Chamber

"This is certainly the age of unrest," remarked the bachelor as he read of another woman who had ended the globe.

"Only for women," put in the bachelor girl. "You men seem to care only for eating and drinking and selfishness."

"Personalities again," observed the bachelor dryly. "But I never saw anything to beat the modern woman. A few years ago man was supposed to be the more volatile of the two, and mothers, with bated breath, used to instruct their daughters how to keep him home from the club and how to retain his fickle fancy. Now it's the man who has to look out. In a few months, according to newspapers, woman tires of matrimony and the humdrum existence it entails. She wants to travel, to keep on improving herself, to see more of life. Naturally hubby objects. Why isn't she content to be just plain married like his mother before her? Why should a woman want to compose music and write novels and be an architect, a lawyer, a doctor, any of those unnatural things? Why not occupy her self right in the home? And, do you know," went on the bachelor, "that's what I ask myself, and that's one reason why I don't want to marry."

"As to that—m—m—" chuckled the bachelor girl. "I could tell you very easily the reason of woman's unrest. She hasn't as much to do as formerly. Compare the life of the present woman with that of her mother before her and her mother's life with that of her grandmother and watch the difference. Life is being made easier for women all the time and more difficult for men."

Domestic Difficulties.

"More difficult for the man. Will you kindly explain that?"
"It's very easy. I said life had been made easier for woman. So it has by apartment hotels with all conveniences, by department stores, which keep everything from a needle to an automobile, and by countless other devices. But these all cost money. The cost of living is now twice what it used to be, dress is more elaborate, dressmakers and tailors charge more. What used to be considered luxuries of the table are now necessities. We eat lettuce and tomatoes and strawberries out of season because they are in the market and we cannot resist the temptation. The price of an apartment in a skyscraper is many times that charged for the rent of a house formerly, and, unlike the house, it gives its mistress no occupation whatever, for everything is done almost automatically for her. Now, what is she to do? Sit at home and cross her hands? No, indeed. She tries to find some means to pass the time that will not bore her. It is even worse with the woman who has married a poor man. Rent, fuel and the comforts of life are the same price for her as they are for her more fortunate sister. There is practically no way in which she can save materially. Home dress-making, that great economy of our mothers' time, is almost denied to her because modern dress is too complex to be attempted by the amateur. So she determines to help make money instead of wasting time trying to save it. She does not gain anything by staying quietly at home, for the work there is almost all done for her, and it would not be much of a gain if she did the little there was, but she does gain by earning a fat salary and increasing her money making powers just like a man."

CRYING HER EYES OUT.

The Guest Chamber.

How few women know how to furnish a guest chamber! For instance, there should be coat hangers in the closet. They are indispensable, and it is hard to make room for them in a trunk. A soiled clothes bag is another necessity the visitor does not find in one room out of ten. A small desk, with paper of assorted sizes and pens, is simply a blessing, and a hot water bottle has often been very much appreciated on cool nights.

HAIL, WIND, RAIN. TRIP FOR BUSINESS.

Severe Storm Here Monday Evening.

The most destructive hail storm in this vicinity for a long time occurred Monday afternoon about 4 o'clock. The hail fell for about ten minutes and literally covered the ground. Much damage was done to fruits and vegetables and some farmers report injury to wheat and oats and corn that was just coming up. M. F. Everback, who has a garden at the corner of Seventh and Bill streets suffered a heavy loss on peas that would have been ready to market in ten days. Last year his garden suffered heavily from hail on June 27. Other gardeners report losses. Strawberries that were in the path of the storm were almost ruined. The hail extended out beyond Cortland but did less damage north and northeast. It extended more than two miles south but did not reach far south and not much damage is reported very far east.

Barrick's green house suffered a loss of not less than $250. Nearly 300 glass were broken there and many plants were ruined.

The skylight at the Gold Mine was broken and five sections of that crashed to the first floor causing almost a panic among the clerks. Miss Wilman, the cashier, was uncomfortably close to danger. Other damage was done by hail over the city.

The wind blew very hard and a number of shade trees about town were blown down. T. S. Blish's automobile was blown down, but fortunately he had taken the automobile to the mill after noon.

Lightning struck A. M. Beatty's stable on east Fifth street setting it on fire. The fire was communicated to C. E. Abel's stable adjoining and both stables are practically a total loss.

No Chance For Bouquets When Commission Comes.

The members of the Southeastern Indiana Hospital Commission are emphasizing the fact that their trips to the different sites proposed for the new institution will be for business only. The Governor so informed the delegations in his office May 3, and the secretary, Mr. Shideler, gives similar information in his official announcement. The Indianapolis Star of May 9 says:

"There will be no bouquets when Governor Hanly and the members of the Southeastern Hospital Commission visit cities with a view to determining upon a suitable site for the new institution. The Governor himself has sent word to each of the six cities that are clamoring for the hospital that the commission, while on its tour of inspection, can not accept any hospitality. Nothing must be done, he says, to prejudice the minds of the members in favor of any particular place."

The Governor several days ago received a tip that enterprising citizens in several of the cities to be visited were planning to entertain himself and the other four members of the commission rather lavishly. Rides and speeches were planned, it is said, but he has set his foot down on this and the commission, while traveling, will pay its own hotel bills and very likely will hire the carriages to convey the members to and from the hospital sites in the different cities."

The Commission will be in Seymour, May 24.

Is That So.

The Columbus Times quotes Judge W. C. Duncan of that city as follows:

"Seymour, North Vernon and those other candidate towns that are asking for the Southeastern Insane Hospital are talking of their great conveniences and their great railroad facilities and their rich country surrounding them. There is something wrong, for North Vernon has but 3500 inhabitants and Seymour but a paltry 6500. The alleged great facilities should boom those towns, but they have not. Yet Columbus has grown and is a populous city, while the other candidate places are simply small towns. The facilities seem to be better here."

Is that so? Suppose we do a little figuring. Columbus was laid out in 1821, eighty-four years ago. The last census gave Columbus a population of 8130. By a simple problem in division we find that the average annual growth of Columbus in the eighty-four years has been barely 100. Pretty slow growth. Now Seymour was laid out in 1854 and is therefore 51 years old. The last census gave Seymour a population of 6,445. The average annual growth of Seymour therefore has been 137. That is the growth of Seymour has been greater than Columbus by 37 per cent as shown by official figures. And besides Columbus is going backward right now for the school enumeration completed May 1st shows a loss of 59 in Columbus, while in Seymour the enumeration shows a gain of 52. So at the age of eighty-four Columbus has begun shrinking while Seymour is keeping up her onward march of progress.

NEW ASYLUM SITE

Commission to Select the Same Announces Its Itinerary.

DEVOID OF FIRE WORKS

Hopeful Aspirants for the Commission's Favor Started to Arrange Fitting Celebration.

Governor, Strictly on Business Bent, Sends Word to Cut Out All Such Frills.

Indianapolis, May 9.—The itinerary for the commission appointed to locate the southeastern Indiana hospital for the insane follows: Columbus, May 23; Seymour, May 24; North Vernon, May 25; Bedford, June 6; New Albany, June 7; Madison, June 8. It is probable that a site will be selected about the last week in June. In keeping with his well-known policy of refusing, as a public official, to accept railroad passes or hotel accommodations free of charge, Governor Hanly has notified people in each place to be visited that the members of the commission desire to pay their own bills and that they will be traveling on business and not for pleasure. Most of the places have started to arrange celebrations in honor of the visitors, but the governor has warned them to cut it out, so the trip will be devoid of fireworks.

DASTARDLY ATTACK

Dynamite Found on Porch of Preacher Who Fights Saloons.

Paoli, Ind., May 9.—A partly consumed fuse, attached to a package containing three pounds of dynamite, was found on the porch of the residence sheltering the Rev. H. W. Baldrige, pastor of the M. E. church, and his estimable family. Mr. Baldrige has been very active in the anti-saloon work here during the last two years and has labored ardently for the prosecution of a number of cases pending in the circuit court for violation of the liquor law. It is the accepted theory that in so doing he has incurred the animosity of the saloon following and that there has been an attempt to wreak deadly vengeance. Mr. Baldrige is not disturbed by this cowardly effort at intimidation, but his wife is suffering from nervous prostration. He will continue his work as heretofore.

Insurance Men Attracted.

Indianapolis, May 9.—Judge Allen of the circuit court is hearing the suit of Evaline Darby, guardian of Mildred Darby, minor heir of Orange V. Darby of Kokomo, against the Federal Life Insurance company for the payment of a $5,000 policy. The claim is resisted on the ground that the policy owner committed suicide. The case promises to be a long and interesting one and is attracting a large number of insurance men.

Killed in View of Many.

Crawfordsville, Ind., May 9.—Wm. D. Turvey, a retired farmer at New Richmond, was run over by a Clover Leaf passenger train. In attempting to cross the track he miscalculated the speed of the approaching train. The engine knocked him to one side with his head across the track, and he was decapitated. The accident was witnessed by a score of people.

Cathedral Work Under Way.

Indianapolis, May 9.—The foundation work of the cathedral of St. Peter and Paul in North Meridian street is well under way, and it is expected that by next January the building may be ready for occupancy. The cathedral, which will be of Indiana oolite limestone, will cost when completed, $175,000. The lot upon which it is to be erected is worth about $50,000.

Was Afraid of the Bow Wows.

Charlestown, Ind., May 9.—Jennings Plummer, a farmer, committed suicide by hanging himself in an empty corncrib. He was despondent over the overwhelming Democrat defeat of last fall, and was always asserting that under Republican control the country would be ruined. He was also afraid that the crops would fail and that he would be unable to refill his barns.

Private Bank Gives Up.

Arlington, Ind., May 9.—The private bank which for the last eighteen months has been operated at Arlington by Horace Goodrich as president and Oliver Jones as cashier, both of Pendleton, has closed its doors. The failure is thought to be due to the fact that the bank, with its limited capacity, overreached its mark in making loans.

Valuable Hoosier Pearl.

Mt. Vernon, Ind., May 9.—Frank Eaton, a mussel fisherman, found a pearl near New Harmony in the Wash river, which he sold to a New York dealer for $700. It was the largest and most valuable pearl ever found in these waters.

Single Cause of Death.

Vincennes, Ind., May 9.—An autopsy was held on the body of James Goldring, whose ailment aroused speculation, and it was found that a grain of corn which he swallowed a few days before had lodged in the intestine and had sprouted.

Phant of a Bishop.
Of Bishop Baldrige, who was a great whist player, it is related that on hearing the name of a new appointment in the chapter there was wrong from him the passionate exclamation, "I have served the Whigs all my life, and now they send me down a canon who doesn't know clubs from spades!"—London Mail.

Mental Effort.

"It is stated," we observe to the bald-headed man, "that the hair of mental workers falls out sooner than that of men in other lines of endeavor. Is your profession one of great mental effort?" "It certainly is," he replied. "I compose the glowing advertisements of hair tonics."—Judge.

A Scientific Discovery.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all food into rich, red blood. Sold by A. J. Pellens and W. F. Peter Drug Co.

The Phonograph in the Moon.

Cyrano de Bergerac in his "Histoire Comique des Etats et Empires de la Lune," whose first edition is dated as early as 1650, relates that the genius that guided him to our satellite gave him for his entertainment some of the books of the country. These books are inclosed in boxes. "On opening the box I found inside a concern of metal, something like one of our watches, full of curious little springs and minute machinery. It was really a book, but a wonderful book that has no leaves or letters, a book for the understanding of which the eyes are of no use—only the ears are necessary. When any one wishes to read he winds up the machine, with its great number of nerves of all kinds, and turns the pointer to the chapter he wishes to hear, when there comes out, as if from the mouth of a man or of an instrument of music, the distinct and various sounds which serve the great Lunarians as the expression of language."

Markley—That boy of yours is very much like you. Borrowings—Do you think so? Markley—Yes. He asked me for a quarter today.

Strictly Genuine.

Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atchison (Kan.) Globe: "Joe Tack, a well known engineer, running on the Missouri Pacific between Wichita and Kiowa, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in this office today, we asked him about it. He says he had terrific pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others who were also cured." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures all stomach troubles. Sold by A. J. Pellens and W. F. Peter Drug Co.

The Gloaming.

The "gloaming" is by origin akin to gloom. The root idea is to look covertly from beneath the brows not with full open eyes, and so the gloaming is that time of day when the sun, sinking below the horizon, shines obscurely under the advancing shades of night, as eyes may gleam dimly from lowering brows.

Byron, the poet, wrote, "As gloaming, the Scottish word for twilight, has been recommended by many literary men and particularly by Dr. Moore in his letters to Burns, I have ventured to use it on account of its harmony."

The evening star is called the "gloaming" star in Scotland, and Lowell's "The snow had begun in the gloaming" and Hog's "Twixt the gloaming and the morn, when the kye come home," are familiar instances of its use.

Why Suffer From Rheumatism?

Why suffer from rheumatism when one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain? The quick relief which this liniment affords makes rest and sleep possible, and that alone is worth many times its cost. Many who have used it hoping only a short relief from suffering have been happily surprised to find that after awhile the relief became permanent. Mrs. V. H. Leggett of Yum Yum, Tennessee, U. S. A., writes, "I am a great sufferer from rheumatism, all over from head to foot, and Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that will relieve the pain." For sale by C. W. Milhous.

A FITTING COMPLIMENT

No Governor Ever in Greater Demand for Speeches Than Is Hanly.

Indianapolis, May 9.—There is a surprising demand throughout the state for speeches from Governor Hanly. It is probable that no other man who ever held the same office received more calls. His strict stand for the enforcement of the laws and his utterances on that question seem to have caught on, for there are fresh requests every day for law-and-order speeches. The governor says he has accepted more now than he really has time to fill, but it is likely that every section of the state will hear him soon on the question, as he likes to discuss it as in line with the policy he has set out to pursue. So long as he continues to make the same speech it is expected that the reform wave will have strong current.

Rushville, according to reports now and then, is threatened with a plethora of candidates for the Republican nomination for governor. There is a lot of talk relative to the plans of the Hon. John K. Gowdy, consul general to Paris, and 'tis said that he will enter the gubernatorial free-for-all when he returns to Rushville next fall for permanent residence. The intimation is also made not infrequently now that perhaps Congressman James E. Watson of Rushville will seek the nomination for governor. It is not known how long the list of eligibles at Rushville is, but it seems to be ambitious politicians elsewhere that two candidates for governor ought to be enough for one place. It is not known whether either Gowdy or Watson will enter the race when the time comes, but they may be regarded as gubernatorial timber. It is believed, however, that Watson desires to remain in congress a few years more, and it is probable that Gowdy will settle down to the life of a wealthy farmer when he returns and let the busy political game alone.

There will be several new faces in the Republican state committee next year. Inasmuch as George A. Cunningham, of Evansville, failed to land the congressional nomination he may be a candidate for re-election as state chairman. John C. Zuhlf, of Jeffersonville, Third district chairman, and Wm. E. Springer, of Elizabethtown, Fourth district chairman, have no opposition. Owen Carr, of Rushville, may succeed Colonel Ed Thayer, of Greenfield, in the Sixth. Fred Sims, of Frankfort, who will be nominated for secretary of state, will retire as Ninth district chairman, and George Dinwiddie, a Frankfort business man, may succeed him. Elmer Leonard of Fort Wayne, Twelfth district chairman, desires to retire. C. C. Bicknell, editor of a Republican paper at Fort Wayne, to succeed him. Elam Neal, of Jonesboro, who will be appointed collector of the Lawrenceburg revenue district next winter, will be a candidate for re-election as Eleventh district chairman. There is not much doing in any of the districts, however, towards the selection of chairmen for next year.

The long squabble over the property of the Consumers' Gas Trust company of this city has been ended by the supreme court of the United States refusing to entertain a petition for a rehearing. The United States circuit court of appeals at Chicago decided a few weeks ago that the company had no right to engage in the sale or manufacture of artificial gas, inasmuch as it was organized as a natural gas company. When natural gas failed several well-known local capitalists, a tried to get possession of the property for the purpose of dismantling it and netting a snug fortune, but a public agitation was started to convert it into a plant for making artificial gas at a low figure. The directors were enjoined from taking such action and the United States courts have now finally settled the matter.

A BITTER WAR

Will Be Waged Against Trolley Cars by Steam Roads.

Chicago, May 9.—The Illinois Central railroad has announced a reduction of nearly 100 per cent in passenger fares between Chicago and Kankakee, Decatur and Bloomington. The object is to meet the competition of the interurbans. This is said to be the first move in a plan formed by the big steam railroad managers of the country to fight the trolley, the Illinois roads having been selected to start the battle. The Chicago & Alton road has already begun competition between Bloomington and St. Louis.

Shaffer Will Give Up.

Detroit, Mich., May 9.—After standing at the head of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers for eight years, President T. J. Shaffer, of the association, which is at present in annual convention here, will this year yield his place to a successor. The contest for the presidency of the association is said to have shimmered down to a race between M. F. Tighe of Pittsburgh, the assistant secretary of the association, and P. F. McArdle of Muncie, Ind., vice president of the Fourth district.

Nan's Fate Uncertain.

New York, May 9.—Nan Patterson's future is still uncertain. Bail has been provided for her, but District Attorney Jerome has not yet decided what action he will take in her case.

A Call to Court.

Washington, May 9.—Chief Justice Fuller announces that the supreme court of the United States will sit next Monday.
